

ABDUCTION PROTOCOL

WHITEPAPER VOL. I

Hello Earthlings, we are so glad you have discovered our project and shown an interest in our plans for the future. We love the NFT space and have seen many amazing outcomes from it. Our project starts as an NFT, but development for the play to win games and our launch pad will be our primary focus after mint.

Below is our Abduction Protocol.(Whitepaper) 1.0
Welcome to the Squad!

COMMUNITY GIVEBACK & TRAIT GIVEAWAY

Community is what drives this entire project. As a team, we have decided to create a community wallet that will initially be filled with 5% of the total Abduction Squad mint. This community wallet will be utilized in a variety of ways. We plan to have a voting system within the community, so members can choose where these funds will be allocated.

This wallet is solely for the community. Ideas that have been bounced around include; helping community members who are going through a rough time in their life, funding holders or projects that were recently rugged, or sponsoring/funding small artists within the space. We're open to more ideas and would love to hear from the community what they are passionate about.

Our Traits Giveaway is an exciting way to benefit from minting with us. We have selected specific traits that translate to a prize upon mint. If you mint a squad member with any of the traits listed below you will receive a corresponding gift/prize.

The first notable trait that will reward minters is a "VR Headset". With VR and Metaverse being such a large part of the NFT space we want to encourage and provide our holders a way to explore that aspect of NFTs. The second trait is "ETH Eyes". If you mint an Abduction Squad NFT and it has this trait, you will win a prize of ETH. The final trait is merch. If your squad member has a trait of any Abduction Squad branded merch, you will win a free merch item of your choice.

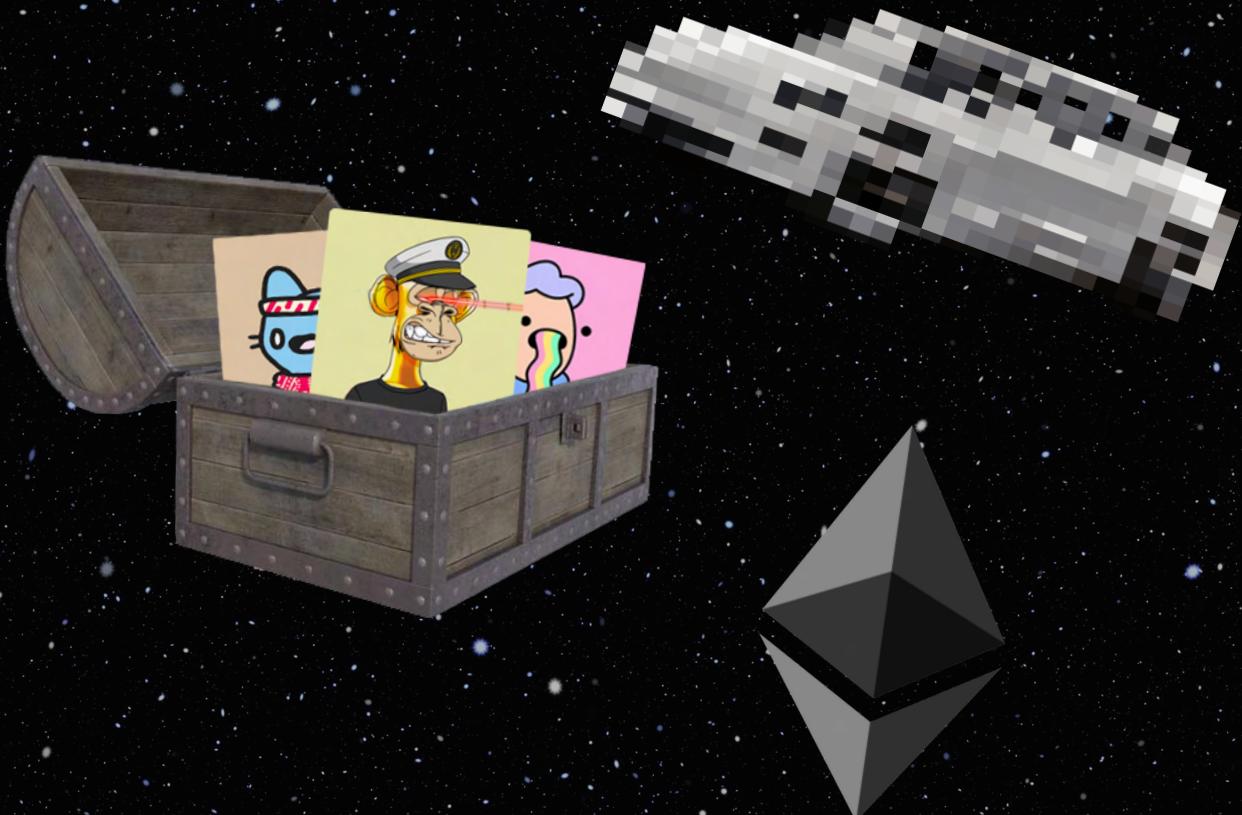

PLAY TO WIN

Play to win (P2W) is one of the developmental milestones we are most excited about. P2W will be our highest priority development focus for Spacemap 1.0. As we all know, games in the NFT space have a lifespan, so Abduction Squad has multiple games lined up for its community members. The first of which will be released shortly after mint and is an app-based game.

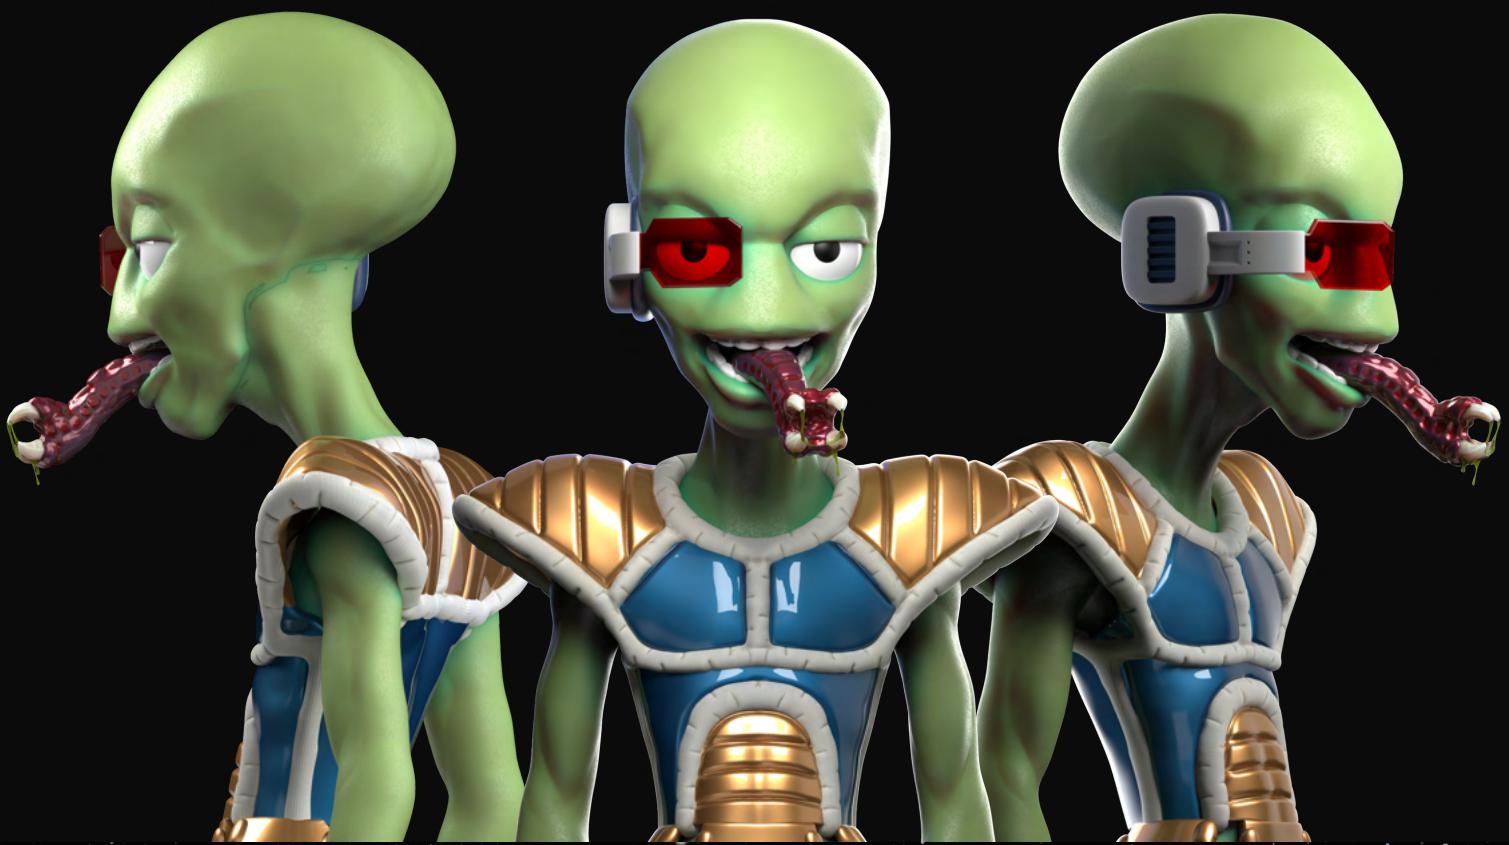

In this game, your character will have a total of 4 "buffs" which holders can earn to strengthen their odds at winning. Each buff will have a unique purpose within the game and each buff will be earned through specific criteria. Details on earning these buffs will be released leading up to the game launch announcement. If you decide to list your NFT before the game launches, but your token has earned all 4 buffs, it will make your NFT more desirable because the stakes in this P2W will be high. We will be purchasing grand prizes for 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place winners that will definitely turn some heads.

There will also be many consolation prizes for players in the community.

METVERSE & VR

As a team, we love the idea of bringing the squad to the metaverse and engaging in VR experiences, that is one of the reasons why we modeled all our NFTs in full 3D. Shortly after mint we will purchase land in the metaverse, so we can explore these possibilities with our community.

IPN EVENT

Shortly after mint we will be hosting an in life event in Los Angeles, California. This event will be a way for our community to see the team behind Abduction Squad and get to know one another. This event will be fully hosted and catered by the Abduction Squad, any squad holder will be admitted into the event at no cost to them, show up and the party begins. As of now the plan is to host a comedy show but is dependent on the restrictions around Covid. (details to come).

STAKING/TOKEN LAUNCH PAD

(Spacemap 2.0)

We hope our community shares the same excitement we have for the life of the Squad. This is a long term project with a bright future ahead of it. We look forward to Abducting you all.
